When A Girl Loves An Earl (Rescued From Ruin Book 5)

Synopsis

What a girl wantsâ | Miss Viola Darling always gets what she wants. Always. And what she wants more than anything is to marry James Kilbrenner, the Earl of Tannenbrook. Sheâ™s fallen hard for the giant, taciturn, surly brute, and she positively will have no other. The problem? Heâ™s not interested. Not even a little. But Viola cannot afford to lose. And she has her heart set on James. If only he will bend to a bit of persuasion. Is an earl like no otherâ | James Kilbrenner knows how determined the entirely-too-beautiful Miss Darling can beâ”the daft woman cornered him at a perfectly respectable dinner and mangled his cravat before he could escape. He has no desire to marry, less desire to be pursued, and will certainly not kiss her kissable lips until they are both breathless, no matter how tempted he may be. And only the right one will doâ | Thrown in her path by a meddling marchioness, James finds himself under sensual siege from a tiny, flirtatious sprite who puts both his heart and his vow to remain unwed at risk. And when scandal looms, he learns the hard way that a man can resist only so long before the indomitable Miss Darling gets her way.

Customer Reviews

*I was gifted a copy of this book by the author in exchange for an honest review*I have been a little bit in love with James Tannenbrook since the beginning of the series. I have a soft spot for large, gruff, not exactly handsome heroes. The story opens 16 years ago when James is 16 - he has just completed his apprenticeship with the stonemason and has planned out his entire life. On the way to see the girl he loves and plans to marry, he is waylaid by his sister and forced to go home. When he gets there, his entire life is changed. He leaves Scotland to become an English lord, but before he goes, he tells his love that he will be back for her and asks her to wait for him. When he returns a year later, it is to find that his love married another and he lost the son he never knew he had. At this moment, James decides that he will never marry. Fast forward 15 years - James needs to find his heir presumptive and the only person who can help him is Lady Wallingham. Lady Wallingham will only help him if he agrees to participate in the London season and look for a wife. While he has no intention of marrying, he agrees to play her game. This is when he meets Viola. Viola is a force of nature, she is astoundingly beautiful, witty, charming and every man falls at her feet - except the one she wants. James seems immune to Viola's charms and resistant to her desire to marry him. He is at times down right cruel to her. But Viola knows that this is the man she is destined to be with and will not let anything stop her - including James. Viola is relentless in her pursuit of James and has faith that eventually he will see that she is right and they will be together. James is just as relentless in his desire not to be caught.
